STATE LIBRARIAN'S REPORT

In a free society it is crucial that the average citizen have the information he or she needs to make informed decisions. Lack of information is a disadvantage in education, employment and personal welfare. Vermonters, living in a rural state with many isolated pockets, are especially susceptible to becoming "information poor."

This library automation program assures that Vermonters, no matter how poor or isolated, can have the same access at the local level as their urban counterparts. Imagine living on the back roads of Island Pond in the Northeast Kingdom and having access to medical research from the University of Vermont or the latest developments in glasnost from Middlebury College, all at the local library.

We Vermonters want to preserve the rural character of our state and, at the same time, enjoy the personal, educational and employment opportunities that link us to the world economy. This project brings this goal a step closer in a cost efficient way and yields a model that can be replicated in other areas. I am proud that state government and the Department of Libraries can play a part in shaping a future for Vermont that preserves local autonomy and fosters global participation.

--Governor Madeleine M. Kunin

The implementation of the Vermont Automated Library System early in FY87 triggered the century's biggest change in the delivery of library services to Vermonters. The FY87-88 biennium's automation activities determined the direction for accessing information well into the 21st century. There is no turning back.

In 1983, the Department of Libraries, the University of Vermont and Middlebury College initiated a joint planning process to determine how Vermont's three major library collections should respond to changes in information technology. DOL, Middlebury College and the Vermont State Colleges chose a single vendor, Data Research Associates, and signed a contract in May, 1986. UVM decided to move in a different direction, and VALS was redesigned to accommodate a network in a multi-vendor environment. During this time, the Department, the University and Middlebury College signed an agreement to link the individual institutions' automated systems together.

DOL's implementation began early in FY87. We began to use the automated library catalog in September, 1986, and that December, Governor Kunin inaugurated the system. Automated cataloging and electronic mail began in winter, 1987. By May, 1987, the traditional card catalogs were no longer maintained. Barcoding the 300,000 items in the DOL general collections was speedily accomplished by the staff and volunteers from libraries statewide over the two year period and allowed DOL to begin automated circulation of materials with no difficulty in the fall of 1987. Now many labor intensive tasks such as filing book cards and manual searching have been eliminated.

The innovative design of the statewide system and VALS' potential for information access by even the most isolated of Vermonters, qualified the Department to be one of the 25 finalists chosen from among 1000 applications for the prestigious Innovations in State and Local Government Grant Awards sponsored by the Ford Foundation and the Harvard Kennedy School of Government.

In FY88, planning was also completed and funding was provided through the General Fund to award matching grants in FY89 to local public libraries for access to the statewide database. Local and "800" lines were also installed so that no telecommunications costs would levied on libraries using the system. The response to VALS has been favorable at all levels, and a great deal of credit must be given to Governor Kunin, her administration and the General Assembly for their foresight and support throughout the planning and implementation process.

VALS, although a major development, was only one part of the information technology introduced to Vermont library and information patrons. Looking back, we see automation and new technology changing every area of Vermont library service. In the FY87-88 biennium, the Department's regular use of national computerized databases and laser disk (CD-ROM) technology was expanded. The acquisition of "The Magazine Collection" made the information in over 300 magazine titles readily available on interlibrary loan. Video formats joined film for local libraries through the Audio-Visual Services Unit. Audio books were a successful experiment in the Southeast Regional Library, a public library statistics database was developed in FY87, and almost 100 libraries in Vermont took advantage of LSCA funded computerized cataloging through OCLC.

While implementation of statewide automation was a major effort in FY87-88, the Department also experienced major physical changes that impacted on its operation. In FY87, the Special Services Unit moved from Montpelier to new handicapped-accessible space at the Midstate Regional Library site in Berlin. The Southeast Regional Library in Dummerston also underwent some renovation to improve access. After 18 months of major construction and disruption in Montpelier, the central quarters of DOL finally moved to the new linking space between the Pavilion and the Supreme Court buildings. In addition to new office and conference areas, the new quarters allowed the Department to reallocate space and develop a single access point for the public using its Montpelier resources and services. The Department also made federal LSCA construction grants to public libraries in Bennington, Middlebury, Essex and Randolph; however, none of the projects were complete by the end of the biennium.

The Minimum Standards for Vermont Public Libraries were approved by the Administrative Rules Committee of the Vermont Legislature in FY86. After a transitional year, the new standards were in force for FY87 and continue as an important catalyst in improving local public library service. In the FY87-88 biennium, the Board of Libraries recognized that many libraries go beyond minimum service levels and deserve recognition and guidance. The resulting Board task force investigated exemplary library service, solicited broad statewide input, wrote two drafts, and held a public hearing. In June, 1987, Board of Libraries accepted the report and "Envisioning Excellence: Planning the Library's Future," a program that emphasizes planning and implementing locally responsive library service. Implementation of this program continues in the FY89-90 biennium.

1987 was declared "The Vermont Year of the Reader," as Governor Kunin added the state's support to a national effort. The Department worked as an active partner and advisor with other agencies to the Vermont Reading Project in providing programs for the general public and in developing several reading discussion projects for special populations. Among these series were "Connections," two series for adult new readers; "Silver Editions," for the elderly; and "Survivors," for residents of state supported institutions. During the biennium, the Department also participated in the statewide Holocaust Remembrance and the Vermont Women's State Fair.

In addition to new initiatives, the Department's ongoing basic services continued to grow. Circulation of materials in all formats continued upward. In addition, the annual summer reading program for thousands of Vermont children broke all records in the biennium with the number of participating libraries going from 85 in FY85 to over 140 in FY87. In FY86 "Vermonsters Devour Books" took over the state, and in FY87 children were involved with "Unlock the Mystery." DOL children's services showed a great deal of energy with travelling exhibits, puppet shows, bibliographies and program aids. Vermont librarians working with children again had the opportunity to attend a Smith lecture each fall, as Madeline L'Engle spoke in FY87 and Betsy Byars in FY88. Vermont children statewide also voted for the annual Dorothy Canfield Fisher Award which in FY87 went to Elizabeth Winthrop and in FY88 to Mary Downing Hahn. In FY87, the Board of Libraries, noting that the Guidelines for Library Service to Children in Vermont needed revision, created a task force to prepare a new document for Board approval late in FY88 and for publication early in FY89.

During the biennium, the Department also assisted local public libraries in serving Vermonters of all ages and with a wide range of needs. Regional library supplementary services and materials were actively used by almost 200 public libraries larger and small. The Adult Services and Children's Services Consultants provided technical assistance and developed resource aids including numerous bibliographies, a salary survey, "Managing Others," and the first annual Children's Programming Directory.

One of the Department of Libraries' priorities is to upgrade public library service statewide through the training of local librarians. In the FY87-88 biennium over 80 one-day and multiday workshops addressing both traditional library services and new technologies were offered throughout the state to over 1,000 participants. Special orientation sessions for new librarians continued. 24 librarians received certification after completing 150 hours of training to improve their skills. Professional librarians and directors of large libraries were refreshed with an annual Management Institute.

Library services to Vermonters with special needs prospered with ongoing federal and state programs providing services to Vermont's 13 state supported institutions and 2,000 blind and physically handicapped patrons. Outreach continued through mealsites and in cooperation with other social agencies.

Resource sharing is crucial in a rural state to insure that all citizens have access to information without regard to geographic location, age, socio-economic-educational status, or interest. We appreciate the willingness of all Vermont libraries to work together to make Vermont's statewide resource sharing system one of the most effective in the nation. Cooperation and resource sharing are the top priority and great strength of our library system. The implementation of the VALS system improved response to almost 100,000 interlibrary loan requests each year. Access to materials outside Vermont through OCLC and RLIN satisfied many more requests; however, it is also interesting to note that Vermont lends, via OCLC, almost twice as many books out of state than it requests. Use of computerized bibliographic and legal databases also increased in FY87-88 and gave rural Vermonters broader information access than ever before.

While planning, implementation, and integration of new technologies predominated in FY87-88, many challenges remain. Linking automated systems for user access from remote areas is a major issue for the next biennium. Plans to assist local libraries, large and small, with appropriate and realistic automation were developed in FY88, yet the execution of the plans for over 200 public libraries is still to come. Providing telecommunications alternatives and new opportunities for using technology in all types and sizes of libraries will be a major concern for the next decade.

Copyright issues for print, microformat, video, software, and online formatted materials continue to concern all libraries, as do postage rates and the efficiency of postal service. These issues impact libraries committed to resource sharing. With LSCA due for reauthorization, the future funding of federal library programs will also affect the design and delivery of statewide library services and planning at the state level.

To insure that library services to Vermonters keep current with those in other parts of the country, the Department and its staff participate in both state and national library efforts. The staff actively participates in activities of the Vermont Library Association, the New England Library Association, the American Library Association, the American Association of Law Librarians and the Chief Officers of State Library Agencies. The State Librarian also serves as a member of the Vermont Statehood Bicentennial Commission, the Vermont Historical Society and the Vermont Council on the Humanities. In addition the Department as an agency participates fully in OCLC, Inc., NELINET (New England Library Information Network), and COSLINE (Chief Officers of Library Agencies in the Northeast). All of these crucial activities bring new knowledge, skills and services to Vermont libraries.

The past two years have entailed substantial positive changes. Vermont has faced the challenge of information technology and implemented it in a nationally-recognized, innovative way while continuing to provide basic library services to Vermonters without major disruption. I would like to thank Governor Kunin and the Vermont General Assembly for the high level of support they have given the Department's transition of automation and new initiatives. I would also like to thank the Vermont Board of Libraries under the leadership of Marilyn Blackwell and Sylvia Robison for tireless support and creativity in facing the challenges of automation, standards, new initiatives, and long-standing issues. The key to the incredible success in the past two years has been the care and interest in cooperation exhibited by the dedicated Department staff who often work far beyond the requirements of their positions to improve library service to all Vermonters.

Progress would not have been made these past two years without the help of local librarians and trustees who not only addressed their own local problems and challenges, but also spent long hours assisting the Department with barcoding and task forces that impact on their communities. The Vermont library community has shown enthusiasm and commitment to working together in facing the new frontiers of a complicated information society.

Thank you to all Vermonters and others who have given time to make Vermont library programs successful. I look forward to working with you to meet each information challenge as it develops in our rapidly changing world. It takes the support of each and every one of you to make innovative and creative progress possible.

GEOGRAPHIC NAME DECISIONS MADE BY THE VERMONT BOARD OF LIBRARIES

July 1, 1986 - June 30, 1988

According to 10 VSA 152-4, the "board of libraries is designated as the state agency to name roads and geographic locations including but not limited to mountains, streams, lakes, and ponds upon petition signed by not less than twenty-five interested persons or by petition of an administrative department of the state." In the past biennium, the Vermont Board of Libraries made the following decisions:

06-21-88 - Turkey Hill. Formerly unnamed hill in Norwich.

06-21-88 - Mill Hill Road. Changed the name of General Ernest N. Harmon Drive in Northfield and Williamstown (State Route 64 from Route 12 in Northfield to I-89 in Williamstown) to Mill Hill Road.

12-15-87 - Hicks Bridge. Name given to a bridge on Route 106 over the Black River in Perkinsville.

09-02-87 - Korean Veterans Memorial Bridge. Name given to the newly constructed bridge between Rouses Point, New York, and Alburg, Vermont.

12-16-86 - General Ernest N. Harmon Drive. Name given to newly constructed Route 64 between Route 12 in Northfield and I-89 in Williamstown.

STATISTICS OF PUBLIC LIBRARIES

Explanatory Notes

Public library statistics have been separated from those of other types of libraries (academic, special, hospital, school, institutional, etc.). Libraries are arranged by town, and village libraries are included under the incorporated town name. Statistics are supplied by local libraries for the fiscal year ending before November 30, 1988; thus, many libraries' statistics are for the year ending December 31, 1987. A zero (0) in a given column may mean that the actual number is "0" or it may mean that the library did not supply or keep this statistic. More extensive statistics and customized reports are available from the Vermont Department of Libraries Development and Adult Services Consultant.

This report's statistics are arranged in several charts:

STATISTICS OF VERMONT PUBLIC LIBRARIES - 1989
lists all public libraries alphabetically by town and gives the library's name, population (1980 census, sometimes including more than one town), whether the library meets the "Minimum Standards for Vermont Public Libraries" in 1989, and the number of hours open in winter. More information about each library is also in the VERMONT LIBRARY DIRECTORY, 1989, later in this BIENNIAL REPORT.

VERMONT TOWNS WITHOUT PUBLIC LIBRARIES
lists the town name, population, 1988 grand list (property tax valuation of the town as a whole), and some additional information.

PUBLIC LIBRARIES THAT SERVE MORE THAN ONE TOWN

PUBLIC LIBRARIES WITH MORE THAN ONE SERVICE OUTLET

PUBLIC LIBRARIES THAT ARE PHYSICALLY ACCESSIBLE TO THE HANDICAPPED

PUBLIC LIBRARIES SERVING OVER 5,000 POPULATION
PUBLIC LIBRARIES SERVING 2,501 - 5,000 POPULATION
PUBLIC LIBRARIES SERVING 1,000 - 2,500 POPULATION
PUBLIC LIBRARIES SERVING UNDER 1,000 POPULATION
For each population breakdown there are four charts with the following information:

1. town name, library name, population (1980 census, sometimes including more than one town), whether the library meets the "Minimum Standards for Vermont Public Libraries" in 1989, and the number of hours open in winter.

2. Income - the 1988 grand list (property tax valuation of the town as a whole), local tax support in the last fiscal year (may include in-kind support), total income (including gifts, trust income, grant funds, tax support, in-kind support, and local fundraising), and tax support per capita (tax support divided by population).

3. Expenses - expenditures during the last fiscal year on the library's collection (library materials such as books, periodicals, and audio-visual materials, but not supplies or equipment), salary expenditures (but not including social security and employee benefits), total expenditures (in some cases overhead provided in-kind is not included; capital expenses are not included), and collection expenditure per capita (collection expenditure divided by population)

4. Volumes, Circulation, and Services - the number of books the library owns, the last fiscal year's total circulation of all materials, average weekly attendance (the number of people who visit the library in a typical week), Interlibrary Loans received from other libraries in the past year, and the number of registered borrowers (adults and children; in many cases the records are not kept)

Many other academic, corporate, institutional, school and special libraries are listed in the VERMONT LIBRARY DIRECTORY, 1989, but did not report statistics to the Department of Libraries.

VERMONT LIBRARY DIRECTORY, 1989

Because resource sharing underlies all Vermont library service, this directory is a prime interlibrary loan and communication tool. Its purpose is to further communication on many levels among librarians and trustees. Included are all of the libraries that participate in the Vermont Resource Sharing Network - all of the public, academic, and special libraries, and about a third of the school libraries:

Libraries by Type

College and University Libraries	24
Hospital Libraries	17
Institution Libraries	16
School Libraries	129
Special Libraries	29
State Government Agency Libraries	11
	224

Public Libraries by Region

Midstate	46
Northeast	45
Northwest	41
Southeast	40
Southwest	36
	208

This directory updates the VERMONT LIBRARY DIRECTORY, 1987, which was included in the BIENNIAL REPORT OF THE VERMONT DEPARTMENT OF LIBRARIES, 1984-86. It is not necessary to keep any previous directory of Vermont libraries, but the statistics found in past biennial reports may be useful for future comparison. Corrections, additions, and deletions will be published regularly in the Department of Libraries NEWS.

New Libraries. Many school libraries began contributing to the Vermont Union Catalog in the 1986-88 biennium and are, thus, included in this DIRECTORY. The following other libraries have also been added:

ATHENS--Town
BRATTLEBORO--Community College of Vermont
BURLINGTON--Fletcher Free, South Branch
CHARLOTTE--School-Community Library
FAIRFIELD--Bent Northrup Memorial
VERGENNES--Simmonds Precision
WINDHAM--Town

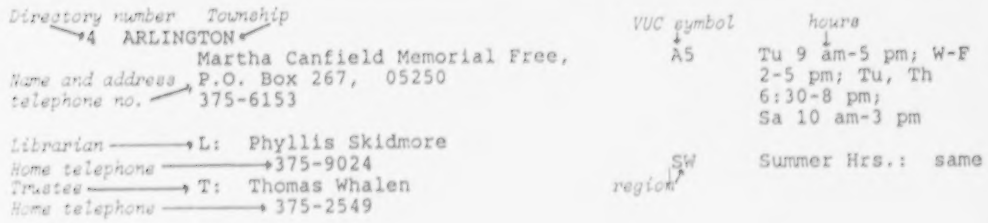
Libraries that have closed. Libraries listed in VERMONT LIBRARY DIRECTORY, 1987, and which are not included in this edition are:

ROCKINGHAM--Memorial Hospital, Medical
Saxtons River (ROCKINGHAM)--Free Public
SALISBURY--Free Public
Gaysville (STOCKBRIDGE)--Belcher
WATERBURY--Agency of Human Services
Perkinsville (WEATHERSFIELD)--branch of Proctor

This directory is arranged alphabetically by the township in which the library is physically located. Town names are listed in upper case letters while villages within those towns are in upper and lower case letters (e.g., ARLINGTON and East Arlington). The authority used to determine what is a township is the VERMONT YEAR BOOK, published annually by the National Survey, Chester, Vermont. A library's mailing address may be completely different from its physical location (e.g., the Northwest Regional Library is located in GEORGIA but its mailing address is Fairfax - it is listed under GEORGIA). Cross references are provided.

If there is more than one library located in a town, the public library (or libraries) is listed first, followed by the other libraries arranged alphabetically by institution.

Following is a sample listing with the explanation of each entry:



Each entry includes the following:

DIRECTORY NUMBER - will be used by the Department of Libraries NEWS when listing changes.

TOWNSHIP - in upper case letters.

NAME & ADDRESS - the word "library" has been dropped from the end of each library's name. The mailing address follws the name, and if the post office is the same as the township, it has also been dropped.

VUC SYMBOL - the Vermont Union Catalog symbol, a short form notation on catalog cards supplied by libraries to the VUC and in communication dealing with interlibrary loan and resource sharing.

WINTER HOURS - generally, these apply from September through June, corresponding with the school calendar. For specific dates of change between winter and summer hours, contact the library.

SUMMER HOURS - usually, these apply in July and August

TELEPHONE NO. - unless otherwise noted, the area code is 802.

LIBRARIAN/HOME TELEPHONE NO. - if a telephone number is given, it is usually the librarian's personal home number and should be used with discretion.

REGION - refers to the Department of Libraries region in which the library is located: Midstate (M), Northeast (NE), Northwest (NW), Southeast (SE), and Southwest (SW).

TRUSTEE/HOME TELEPHONE NO. - if given, the name of the last reported chairperson or president of the board of trustees.

There are several indexes to this DIRECTORY:

LIBRARIES BY TYPE - listed alphabetically by location with the township in all upper case letters

PUBLIC LIBRARIES BY REGION - also listed alphabetically by location

SUBJECT STRENGTHS AND SPECIAL COLLECTIONS - subjects reported by librarians are listed alphabetically with locations noted by VUC symbol. When attempting to judge the degree of strength, refer to the type of library, the size of its collection, and/or explicit indication of designated special collections.
